Weatherman Aids Outing

WOW! PENNIES GALORE. That sums up the feelings of these youngsters who participated in the penny scramble at the Potters Picnic Saturday at Meyers Lake Park in Canton. The startled boy at the top is ready to scoop up some of the 2,500 pennies that rolled in his direction during the penny scramble. And the young girls are just as happy as they hug boxes almost as big as themselves after participating in the "junior bathing beauty" contest at the park. The boxes contain baby dolls which all the girls received. Boys were given rifles.

Annual Picnic Of Potters Draws 25,000 To Resort

By BYRON R. EELLS
Want perfect weather for a family outing? Check with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which apparently has its own weatherman.
Once again nearly ideal weather prevailed Saturday for the 35th annual Potters Picnic at Meyers Lake Park in Canton and upwards of 25,000 potters and their friends took advantage of the opportunity to relax, renew friendships, enjoy the amusements and stuff themselves with the traditional picnic fare.
A bright sun warmed the crowd and kept the temperature in the mid 70's, but a breeze off the lake made the shady areas a cooling place in which to sit and watch others amuse themselves.
Sweaters, spring coats and light jackets were evidence that a few would have preferred even higher temperatures. But to most of the picnic crowd the interest in the weather was secondary.
The crowd didn't appear to be as large as in previous years, with many vacant picnic tables, but Bob Howard, park manager, said "a good early crowd" was on hand as the day got under way with free rides between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m.
And the crowd was large enough to fill the park's parking areas with others forced to park their cars in the nearby athletic field. Concessionaires also were happy with the crowd, as picnicers kept rides and refreshment stands busy.
Many youngsters took advantage of the park's newest innovation, the "Circus Express," which toured the park area. Its shrill whistle startled many in the crowd as it wended its way around the midway.
Six East Liverpool youngsters, two from Wellsville and one from Sebring walked off with awards totaling 255 in the baby show which launched the formal program early in the afternoon. First place winners won $50 and second place winners receiving $10 in the three age brackets.
Winners in the up to 1 classification were Cheryl Rose, 11-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rose, 817 St. Clair Ave., first; Georgene Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Mary K. Jackson, 1003 Crawford Rd., Wellsville, second; and Gregory Sullivan, 4-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan, 1105 1/2 St. George St., third.
Douglas Shaw, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shaw, 717 1/2 Washington St., Wellsville, won first place in the 1-2 bracket. Second went to Bobbie Ann Puckett, 1 1/2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Puckett Jr. of Sebring, while Kevin Purton, also 1 1/2 and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Purton, 1560 Etruria St., took third.
The 2-3 bracket was monopolized by the grandchildren of James B. Moss, long active in local union affairs.
His granddaughter, Christy Lynn Madison, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Madison of St. Clair Ave. Ext., won first place, with his grandson, Joey, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moss Jr. of Berkshire Rd., taking second. Third place went to Vicki Lynn Miller, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Miller of the Y. & O. Rd.
Nurses in the Canton area selected the winners from a crowd of some 300 babies while the children waited for their prizes.

MOSCOW (AP) — The world's first woman cosmonaut and a male Soviet space comrade whirled around the globe in separate spaceships today. It seemed doubtful that they would link up in orbit.
Valentina Tereshkova, 26, an attractive blonde, woke up feeling fine this morning after her first night in orbit, Tass news agency said.
Her space partner, Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky, 28, also awoke refreshed from his third night of globe-girdling.
"Both cosmonauts began their working day with physical exercises," said Tass.
Tass said all systems on the two spaceships—Vostok 5 and Vostok 6—were working normally. Soviet officials remained silent on whether Bykovsky and Miss Tereshkova would attempt a rendezvous in space.
Observers noted, however, that Miss Tereshkova is not a trained pilot and might not be able to carry out her role in a complicated link-up maneuver.
Tass said the purpose of sending a man and woman into space was to compare the effects of space flight on the two sexes.
The Soviet Union rocketed Miss Tereshkova, a former factory worker, aloft Sunday, two days after Bykovsky blasted into space. There was no official indication exactly how close their ships were or whether the two cosmonauts could see each other. In a joint message to Premier Khrushchev Sunday they said: "Our ships are at a close distance from each other."

Soviet communiques said both space ships had lost a little altitude.
There was no official word how long Miss Tereshkova and Bykovsky will remain aloft. Unofficial reports said they will land at short intervals within a day or so.
A government space expert in Tokyo predicted that Bykovsky would be returned to earth tonight because the lessening in orbital time of his ship would make continued space travel dangerous.

"The orbital time of Vostok 5 was reduced to 88 minutes 11 seconds on its 36th orbit," said Yoshiaki Nakata, chief of the ionosphere section of the Radio Research Institute in Tokyo.
"At this rate, the time will be reduced to less than 88 minutes by its 60th orbit tomorrow, and unmanned space ships in the past have all disintegrated at this orbital pace."
Rumors circulated in jubilant Moscow that a third Soviet cosmonaut might be sent up to join Bykovsky and Miss Tereshkova, but there was no official indication of this.
Word has been circulating for weeks, however, that the new Soviet space feat would have spectacular trimmings.
A Soviet announcement said Miss Tereshkova went into orbit at 12:30 p.m. Sunday and made radio contact with Bykovsky a half hour later.
Miss Tereshkova appeared to be enjoying her experience keenly. Strapped to her space couch, she smiled frequently as she was seen speaking into a microphone attached to her helmet.
Obviously aware she was being watched by television viewers all over the Soviet Union and the Soviet bloc nations, she waved gaily at the camera.

Court Opens 2nd Trial In Smith Case

Selection Of Panel Finished At Lisbon In Fund Shortages
Miss Roberta C. Smith of Fairmont St., former chief clerk in the city water department office, went on trial in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon today for the second time on charges growing out of an alleged $23,841 shortage in the department's funds.
Selection of the jury was finished at mid-morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. A venire of 40 prospective jurors reported to the court this morning.
The panel is comprised of: Marie Tweed, Alice B. Menchon and John Wood, all of East Liverpool; Richard Kevan of Wellsville; Neva Branch, Burton B. Sutter Jr., Lawrence Valentino and Moynelle Jones, all of Salem; Lawrence Kibler of Leetonia; George Yankovich and Alice Welch of New Waterford and Frank Hannon of Lisbon R. D. 2. Ferne Cunningham of East Liverpool is alternate.
The jury was scheduled to travel to East Liverpool to inspect the water department office at City Hall. Then it will go to lunch, with the opening statements of counsel scheduled as the session begins this afternoon.
Atty. Frank Springer of East Palestine is appearing for the defense. Prosecutor G. William Barkaw and Asst. Prosecutor Joseph Baronzi are handling the state's case.
The prosecution, basing its case mainly on a state examiner's report, alleges the money was mishandled in 1959-61.
Charged with embezzlement in connection with the same case, Miss Smith was tried last December. The case ended in a hung jury. The Grand Jury then returned an indictment charging larceny.
Miss Smith pleaded not guilty at arraignment March 5 on the larceny charge. The embezzlement charge also is still pending. She was free on $1,500 bond in each case.
Court attaches said the trial is expected to require most of the week.

Six Youngstown Girls Killed At Rail Crossing

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The girls must have seen the flashing lights, witnesses said.
But the car carrying six Youngstown girls home after a swimming party drove into the path of a speeding freight train early Sunday, killing all six girls.
Two boys, following the girls' car on motor scooters, told police that flasher lights were working at the crossing in nearby Geneva. The boys said they were amazed to see the car pull onto the tracks, directly into the path of the Nickel Plate Road train.
The 89-car freight smashed the car into an almost unrecognizable tangle of twisted metal, and stopped a mile down the track with part of the car under the front of the engine.
The victims, all close friends, were Sylvia Sanker, 18, of suburban Boardman; Jennie Angelo, 21, Darlene Muzenic, 21, Sondra Van Sack, 18, Juliane Paiko, 20, and Barbara Cowan, 19.
The girls left Youngstown Saturday morning to visit a friend's lake-front cottage at Geneva-on-the-Lake. Originally they had planned to stay overnight, but later decided to return home for Father's Day, a relative said.
Kyle V. Andes, 45, of Conneaut, fireman and engineer who was operating the train, told authorities things happened so quickly he didn't see the car. He estimated the train was going 50 miles an hour at the time and said the flasher lights were working.
Police said they were unable to tell who was driving the car.
Investigating officers retracing the path of the girls' car said that it had stopped a short time before the collision at another grade crossing, which was free of trains.

Hearing Set Tonight For 6 Suspects

Beer Sales Citation Issued During Visit To Red Dog Club
Hancock County law officers staged raids in both ends of the county early Sunday, confiscating a large quantity of gaming equipment and arresting nine persons on beer and gaming charges.
Two constables made six arrests at taverns along Route 30 near Chester and the office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny followed up by raiding the Wellston Owls Club.
Action by the office of Sheriff Manypenny in arresting two persons and seizing gaming equipment at the Owls Club apparently started a "chain reaction" and led the law to a warehouse in New Cumberland, where 56 slot machines were impounded.
Constable Harold Davis of Chester and Constable J. Carl Durham of Newell made six arrests at the taverns along Route 30 for permitting beer to be consumed after hours on licensed premises, prohibited in the state between midnight and 1 p. m. Sunday.
After citing five persons, they began a check of other taverns in the area but their work was interrupted by a call to go to Chester City Hall.
One of the five arrested, Charles Pittenger, operator of the Hill-top Inn, had complained to Squire Eugene Allison of illegal activities at the Red Dog Club and a search and seizure warrant was issued to Constables Davis and Durham.
The two officers then went to the Red Dog Club and cited Gahners and Phil's Place, where Philip L. Leydecker was cited. Other citations were issued against Robert E. Fryer of Bob's Bar, Betty Jane Doerr of Bev's Lounge or Club Paddock, Joseph L. Timmons of The Lounge, and Pittenger.

$1,339 Loss Set In Music Store Looting

Guitars, Amplifiers Taken As Burglar Forces Open Lock
Five guitars and four electrical amplifiers valued at a total of $1,339 were taken by burglars who forced their way into the Music Manor, 416 Washington St., Saturday night or early Sunday, police were told.
The burglary of the store building occurred midway between E. 4th and E. 5th Sts. on the east side of Washington St. was reported to police at 2:57 a. m. Sunday by Eric Young of Cannons Mills, the owner.
Young told officers the intruders evidently removed a wooden strip from around the door frame, then forced open the lock by manipulating it with a screw driver or a knife.
The loss included two Kent guitars valued at $149 and $179 each and two Guild models worth $199 and $395, he said. In addition, the intruder took three Daneco amplifiers worth $166, $67 and $139 and a Guild amplifier valued at $45, young reported.
Young told police he closed the place of business at 9 p. m. Saturday. When he checked early Sunday, the store had been entered and the musical instruments were missing, he said.
Young reported the entry to Patrolman Robert W. Duffy, the desk officer at headquarters. The investigation was made by Patrolman Ronald Brooks.

Lima Police Capture Trio In Gun Battle

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Police fought a running gun battle with two men and a woman early today, then captured them and identified the trio as the same persons who kidnaped two Toledo patrolmen a few hours earlier.
Two Lima policemen, patrolmen Eugene Foster and William Williams, spotted a car whose description matched the one of the Toledo kidnapers, and radioed two other patrol cars to join the chase.
Through the town and west on U.S. 30 south sped the cars, with the suspects firing wildly. All three police cars were hit by heavy-caliber bullets, but the officers escaped injury.
As the police cars closed in, the suspects turned off the highway about five miles west of Lima into what they thought was a side road. However, it turned out to be a wide drive into a farmyard. The car crashed into a tree, and the policemen closed in. The suspects offered no resistance.
When taken to Lima City Jail, the men identified themselves as Billy Dean Condry, 23, and his brother, Tony, 33, of Sacramento, Calif.

Rights Action Being Pushed By President

Congressional And Religious Leaders Gather At Capital
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional and religious leaders gathered at the White House today to hear appeals from President Kennedy that they act to improve the lot of Negro Americans.
The separate sessions are part of Kennedy's two-pronged attack on inequality: Using persuasion of private citizens to try to speed desegregation; sounding out key members of Congress prior to dispatch of his civil rights legislative package to Capitol Hill later this week.
On the voluntary front, Kennedy already has met with business and labor groups, with several governors and a week ago in Hawaii with the nation's mayors. Another session with governors is planned for Tuesday, and there have been reports he will meet with educators Wednesday.
The President called in congressional leaders last week. This morning's repeat session comes (Turn to RIGHTS, Page 3)

Rhodes Fills Vacancy On Appeals Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Youngstown attorney, who lives in Trumbull County, was named by Gov. James A. Rhodes today to the place on the 7th District Court of Appeals made vacant by the death of Judge John L. Donahue.
He is George M. Jones, a 1951 graduate of Ohio State University's law college. Jones will take the oath Wednesday. His term will run to Feb. 1, 1965.

Stabbing Kills Inmate At Pen In Moundsville

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — An inmate of the state penitentiary at Moundsville was stabbed to death Sunday by another inmate, state police reported.
The victim was David Poole, 37, of Inwood, Morgan County. Prison authorities charged Leroy Hitchcock, 22, of Huntington, with the slaying.
Poole was stabbed with a kitchen knife on his way back from breakfast, police said.

Ben-Gurion Steps Down From His Premier Post

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, prime minister almost continuously since Israel was founded in 1948, has resigned for personal reasons.
A government spokesman said he also will relinquish his seat in Parliament but will remain as head of a caretaker government until a new one is formed.
Speculation spread that the 76-year-old leader resigned Sunday because of criticism in Parliament over his handling of a security case. But a communique issued after a Cabinet meeting said Ben-Gurion's reasons for quitting were "not connected with any state problem or event."
One source said that when the Cabinet pressed Ben-Gurion for the reasons he replied, "I am keeping them to myself."
The security case involved German scientists developing nuclear rockets for the United Arab Republic. An Israeli security chief, who never was identified, resigned last March because of differences with Ben-Gurion. Opposition parties demanded an open debate on the resignation, but Ben-Gurion's Mapai party averted it.
Observers said the arrest "spoiled" the debut of the Red Dog as a night club. The club reportedly had opened Friday night, but saved its official opening for Saturday and drew a large crowd.
Hearings are slated tonight at 6 before Squire Allison for the six persons charged with open violation.

Rights

amid signs that civil rights supporters still lack the votes to kill the filibuster Southern senators are almost certain to mount in opposition to Kennedy's legislation.

House passage of some form of civil rights legislation is regarded as likely. The story is apt to be different in the Senate, for an Associated Press canvass indicates leaders cannot count on marshaling the two-thirds of those voting to shut off debate.

The Dixie senators' key target probably will be an expected administration proposal calling for legal steps to prevent discrimination in public places and private businesses. The Kennedy program probably will include, too, proposals to strengthen voting rights, authorize the attorney general to act legally to speed school integration and to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

The canvass shows that since May 9, 1962, when an effort to cut off talk on a bill to abolish state literacy tests in voting was defeated 53 to 43, there has been a shift of 10 votes to the support of cloture. Senators absent for the 1962 test are expected to swell the total by three.

It's Just The Beginning

Pieces of the tapestry Nikita Khrushchev is weaving in Cuba already are beginning to float around Latin America.

Venezuela is the latest nation to become engaged in fighting Communist activity. The life of President Betancourt has been threatened. Terrorists are looting.

It's the old story. Some of the terrorists are natives who have subscribed to communism for some time. Others are newly imported Castroites.

WHEN FIDEL CASTRO invited Soviet Russia to take over Cuba, Khrushchev did not accept primarily to establish a base from which he could operate against the United States—although that always could be a possibility. His No. 1 motive undoubtedly was to establish a jumping-off place for insidious Communist infiltration into Central and South America.

Presidential Mission To Europe

President Kennedy's forthcoming European trip has taken on the character of an international political fence-mending mission.

Three of the four countries on the presidential itinerary are at political crossroads. Only the visit to Ireland will be a pleasure trip.

In Italy, there is a threat that Communist gains in the recent election there could move that country away from its commitment to NATO and its support of the American-proposed multilateral nuclear force.

WEST GERMANY is important because the 14-year-old Adenauer regime is nearing an end.

In Great Britain the President will have to discuss with Prime Minister Macmillan—whose government is being rocked by scandal—plans for the nuclear test ban talks in Moscow, slated for next month.

Although the projected trip recently has come under criticism on the home front, it's felt that Mr. Kennedy can't afford to permit domestic pressure to force postponement or cancellation. His critics say he

It is unfortunate that in some of the Latin American countries their own governments have been unable to achieve economic prosperity, and thus their peoples are ripe for any change that might sound good to them on the surface.

THAT IS THE TYPE of situation the Communists have exploited around the world for a quarter of a century. It is how they become established. And, once established, they have a knack of taking over, lock, stock and barrel, with only puppet control by local citizens.

Cuba is the latest example. Now it is being used as a base for attempts at further infiltration in the Western Hemisphere.

Americans have not yet begun to see the end of the tragedy that befell Cuba when Khrushchev was permitted to take over.

should stay home to handle the civil rights issue and other domestic problems. They also contend the trip would be a waste of time.

Those who favor the trip claim it would be a damaging admission that things are so bad at home that the President couldn't risk a week abroad for meetings with foreign leaders.

ANOTHER ASPECT of the trip — which hasn't been lost on some of the more astute observers of the international scene — is that the Kennedy trip is directed toward isolating French President de Gaulle and affording an opportunity to get American views across to the people of Western Europe.

Whether any of the aims of the trip abroad will be accomplished is secondary. However, it will be most useful if distance puts a clearer perspective on the President's view of the domestic scene. We have had a feeling that, from his White House rocking chair, he hasn't been able to see the (local) forests for the trees.

Or consider the thistle, which boasts the most tenacious root system in the plant kingdom and is further fortified with sticklers that guarantee torture to any living thing that gets one stuck in its flesh. The Scots, who have survived in one of the toughest places on earth, worship the thistle as their emblem.

Not to be overlooked in any compendium of tough cookies in this respect is chickweed, a lacy, tender growth that becomes so intricate and lush it cannot be torn loose from whatever it has become attached to, like mistletoe, another clinging vine whose hardihood is legendary, even mythological.

And what do all these survivalists have in common? They thrive on very little. They are not pampered. They give their enemies a bad time. They can survive without pampering, though pampering does not seem to weaken them. The Scots grow thistles as high as their waists and big around as a barrel. But if the Scots never grew another thistle, there would be thistles.

The moral of this sample list of hardy specimens is obvious. Survival depends on making the most of what is and waiving no thought or worry on what would make it better. Survival comes first, which is the way it should be because survival is the strongest human instinct.

All thoughts herein expressed are those of the author, who has been singularly impressed with the survivability of cats, thistles, wild morning glories and various birds. Were crows mentioned? No?

The crow survives by being smarter than anyone else, including human beings. That's another thing to remember. If you can't be bigger, stronger, or tougher, be smarter.

The starling who took over an apartment in the multiple dwelling from the sparrows are running true to any form of animal life; now they won't even let any other starling in the other apartments.

ANOTHER THOUGHT about baseball: when the rest of us make an error we can alibi or at least hope other people forget it but when a baseball player makes an error it goes in the book and stays with him for the rest of his life. Our old pasture ball crowd would consider a big league error good playing.

Sign of the affluent times: it used to be considered a disgrace for kids to be seen in ragged clothes but nowadays "teen togs" are deliberately made and sold with ragged edges and even patches. What will the togs be like when this reverse status reaches the stage of the reverse-reverse status?

Your lament about the loss of shrubs to note with me because our place, too, has lost some big bushes frozen out by the cold or demolished by the snow. The only solace is that a few of the shrubs were spreading so much and getting so big they could almost be considered weeds. So we bid them goodbye with mixed feelings.

The wren is noted for its sweet song, but some of our friends agree with us that wrens nesting near the residence can be too much of a good thing. Even their cheerful warble palls from repetition.

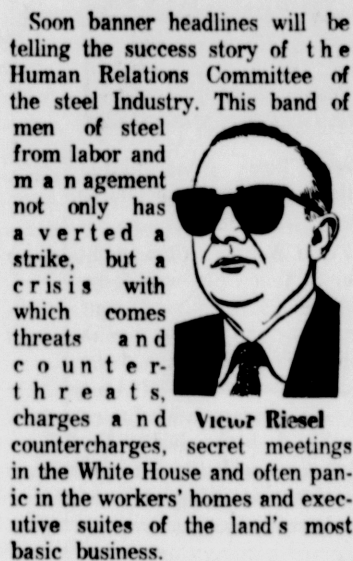

Faithfully yours,
MAX

The Inside Story Of A Committee

By Victor Riesel

problems with the working men at the furnaces and presses.

Goldberg and McDonald then met privately with U. S. Steel board chairman, Roger Blough, and vice president, Conrad Cooper. The latter had headed the industry team. They talked for a long while in a suite at the Sheraton-Carlton in Washington, D.C. Then they went across the street to the Bethlehem Steel offices at 1000 16th St.

There they wrote the final draft of the formal steel contract which ended the long strike. There, too, they created the Human Relations Committee out of the very same teams which had fought each other so angrily for so long.

Since then I've talked with most of the committee. They now know each other. They respect each other. They have been meeting endless hours since last January first. They understand each other's problems — as leaders and as representatives of two sides trying to slice up pies growing smaller each year.

There will be no strike. Dave McDonald will deliver the three-month vacation (each five years after 15 years) to his people. The industry will keep it within operational cost limits.

Each side compromised. And they did it without the government. Other industries will follow — especially if the government continues to stay away.

FAIRLESS RETIRED in '55, as did Stephens in '57. New men were in steel's executive suites. Good men. But they were really strangers to Goldberg and McDonald. The showdown was coming over a new contract. There would be awkwardness and roughness. Profits had been slashed. Also steel labor employment.

Wishing to avoid a civil war in steel, Goldberg worked long on a speech he was scheduled to make in '58 at the University of Wisconsin.

In effect, he sounded the third-man theme. He urged both sides to sit down with public representatives to help mediate the differences and bring both sides into closer communication. But the strike hit nonetheless — for 116 days late in '59.

During this battle, a four-man team, including Goldberg, spoke for the union in conferences with a similar group representing the industry. It was bitter. Towards the end, during so-called bargaining sessions at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York, the opposing commands rarely spoke to each other.

So deadlocked were they, they sometimes just sat there, commenting on the weather or sports, or reading documents.

During the strike, Goldberg and McDonald met with Edgar Kaiser in the Waldorf. The unionists suggested a three-party system — representatives of the union, the management and the public — to handle the labor relations at Kaiser's plant in Fontana.

He agreed and split with the industry by making a separate peace. That tripartite committee, with public members, developed the now famous Kaiser cost-saving plan.

THEN, WHEN the big steel union finally agreed on a settlement with the 11 steel companies still represented by the industry's four-man team, Goldberg and McDonald suggested that something could be salvaged out of all the antagonism.

To avert future crises the unionists proposed the tripartite committee which had been accepted by Kaiser. But the industry people said, why not try to work matters out with a two-party operation? Why bring in outsiders?

A few weeks ago a man on 3rd St. parked to take his crippled wife in the house. It only cost him $1. I guess because he is living on social security. But as I say if you are the right one you can park any place that the curb is painted yellow and if the people can only dodge the traffic until around Christmas the judge will issue a strong warning again to the motorist who won't let the people cross Market St. or any other street where the motorist wants to make a turn. But until then just take your chances.

It consists of 21 incredible tunnels, including a paved "Main Street", 1,100 feet long that conceals 28 prefabricated plywood buildings. A portable nuclear reactor provides light, heat and power. Camp Century is purely a research base and 170 men are stationed there.

Is It Worth It?

By James Marlow

That's Question About Kennedy Trip

WASHINGTON
The main point in the dispute over President Kennedy's trip to Europe next week—he's been criticized for it—comes down to this: Is it worth the time and trouble? Probably not.

It doesn't figure to do any harm either. But it's about the most poorly planned trip Kennedy has made.

McGeorge Bundy, one of his top White House assistants, said Sunday the journey had been under consideration for a year. But since the consideration started things have changed in Europe and at home, too.

He'll fly to Germany next Sunday and then go to Ireland, the home of his ancestors, and then to Britain and Italy but not to France. The purpose is to pep up the Western alliance.

Since President de Gaulle of France has shaken the alliance more than anyone or anything, he would seem the one who most needs talking to. But De Gaulle didn't ask Kennedy to stop by.

The President will be leaving here at a time he calls critical for this country, meaning the racial dispute.

It hasn't subsided. Kennedy will set out for Europe not long after handing Congress a package of civil rights bills which will start such a fight that Congress may be here till next winter.

Germany, Britain and Italy—from the standpoint of long-range talking to the government leaders there—are pretty much in a short-range and gummy kind of condition.

In London Prime Minister Macmillan's government has been so shaken by a sex scandal that it's possible Macmillan himself won't be in office by the time Kennedy gets there.

The roof fell in when Macmillan's secretary of state for war, John Profumo, resigned after admitting he lied in denying any improprieties with Britain's biggest sex symbol in years, Christine Keeler.

Even without the Profumo-Keeler exposure, Macmillan's government was on such shaky ground it may not survive the next election fight with the Laborites. They may get peeved at Kennedy if they think his visit helps Macmillan.

Kennedy will be walking into just as much confusion in Italy. He was supposed to visit Pope John XXIII but Pope John died.

A new Pope may have been chosen by the time Kennedy gets there—the cardinals start voting Wednesday—but that won't give him much time to get adjusted before seeing Kennedy. That part of Kennedy's trip may have to be called off.

There's even more uncertainty about the Italian government itself. Aldo Moro, premier-designate of the Christian Democrats, is trying to form a left-of-center coalition government, but Parliament has to approve.

While he's away, Kennedy can't even imagine what kind of racial explosion may burst in this country. He can hope it won't but he won't be here to do anything about it if it does.

As for the civil rights program he hands Congress this week, that's a struggle he can tackle when he comes home. If he fights hard for it, it may cost him Southern states in the 1964 presidential race; if he doesn't, it may cost him a lot of Northern Negro votes in 1964.

What started out as a kind of dull year turned mean, sour, and rough.

A Sad Anniversary

By Richard Spong

Just 10 years ago — on June 17, 1953 — Soviet tanks and armored cars put down riots in East Berlin and East Germany.

"The lid was blown off the Communist pressure-cooker and the whole world could see what was seething inside. Then the lid was quietly rammed back again. Without protest from without or resistance from within, the Red Army reinstalled the utterly discredited Pankov (East Berlin) regime." These few words from Richard H. S. Crossman, British Laborite, MP, put the riots 10 years ago in East Germany into a neat capsule.

Demonstrations against labor conditions in East Berlin burst into major anti-Communist riots on June 17, 1953. In East Berlin as many as 50,000 workers turned out for an assault on government buildings. The riots were put down only after Soviet troops with tanks shot their way into the Potsdammer Platz.

THE FEVER was contagious. The Reds admitted, June 20, to strikes, arson, and riots in at least a dozen East German cities from Warnemunde and Rostock in the north to southernmost Zwickau.

Once the disorders had been put down, Moscow gave out the line that Western agents provoked the outbursts. But the German Communist Party acknowledged that it had made "mistakes" in its policies, and promised leniency.

The East German revolts were the first openly reported satellite uprisings. A "Pilsen workers' revolt," which began in the Lenin Works (formerly the Skoda munitions plant) in Czechoslovakia and soon spread to Bohemia, Moravia, and Slovakia, had been put down by force of arms about two weeks earlier.

These near revolutions were the precursors of the wave of rebellion that began in Poznan, Poland in the summer of 1956 and ended in the tragedy of Hungary.

In East Germany as later in Hungary the revolutionary current, however uncontrolled, certainly could not have been dammed without the Red Army. Close to half a million Soviet personnel were stationed there.

The Hungarian Freedom Fighters might have taken a lesson in advance from what happened in and over East Germany. The Eisenhower administration, pledged to "liberation" of the Soviet satellites, avoided any action that might be termed intervention in the affairs of the Soviet zone.

THE UNITED STATES did offer East Germany $15 million in food shipments. The Soviet Union rejected the offer, and so West Berlin set up distribution points at which thousands of East Germans who poured into the city could get "Eisenhower packages" of flour, lard and other scarce foodstuffs.

Ten years after the abortive riots, East Germany remains in the grip of the Red army. Our Pentagon spokesmen glumly refuse to give out information on the armed strength of East Germany, but an equally official source puts the Soviet occupation force at 400,000 men, or about 20 divisions.

East Germany itself admitted maintaining an army of 90,000 men in January a year ago, when it instituted conscription. West German sources gauge the East German army at 175,000 to 200,000 men, with 10,000 more in the air force and 14,000 in the navy.

Then there are reported to be 30,000 in special police units, 50,000 in the border police, and 350,000 in the factory militia.

Few of these can be considered thoroughly reliable. Indeed, if Soviet occupation forces were to be pulled out tomorrow, the militia and some of the regular troops could probably be depended upon for a revolutionary cadre.

Court Grants Motion

West End Motorist Fined In Reduction Of Charges

A West End motorist was fined $200 and costs today in Municipal Court when a charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated was substituted for a count of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

A motion to dismiss the original affidavit filed by a Wellsville priest against Jessie James Flowers, 44, of 927 Fairview St. was made by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark following a conference with Atty. George Aronson, counsel for the defendant.

In making the motion for dismissal, Clark said Patrolman Leonard Richard originally booked Flowers on a physical control charge but the following day Fr. Gerald X. Curran, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Wellsville, appeared and signed an affidavit charging the West End motorist with drunken driving.

"After going into the details, we feel perhaps the physical control charge was the correct one," Clark said, explaining he had discussed the case with Richard and Fr. Curran.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff agreed to the assistant solicitor's motion and also dismissed a motion filed last Monday by Atty. Aronson asking the affidavit be quashed and the evidence of the complaining witness be suppressed.

A demand for a jury trial also was withdrawn by Atty. Aronson. Flowers' counsel waived the reading of the physical control affidavit and entered a guilty plea. He asked the court to consider that Flowers is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and must drive back and forth to work.

Patrolman Richard testified briefly that he found Flowers in his car in an intoxicated condition the night of May 28 at the Loblaw parking lot on Dresden Ave. However, the officer said he did not see the defendant driving the auto.

Judge Chertoff told Flowers: "You seem to feel that you can drive without regard for the rights of others. You don't have much respect for the law, or if you do, you have a peculiar way of showing it."

"If you keep going the way you are, you might face me on a manslaughter charge — if you're still here," the judge declared. He told Flowers to confine his driving to work and shopping purposes.

Meanwhile, Robert E. Wilson, 846 Fairview St., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone Friday night on Pennsylvania Ave.

Young Driver Hurt As Auto Leaves Road

DeWayne McDevitt, 20, of Dugannon is in "fairly good" condition today at Salem Central Clinic with injuries received early Sunday in a one-car crash at Hanoverton.

Constable Roy Painter of Hanoverton said McDevitt was driving south on Route 9 at 2:15 a. m. when his new car ran off the east side of the highway and sheared off a utility pole. The youth was alone and may have fallen asleep, Painter said.

A passing motorist found Mc-

Devitt crawling along the highway. His 1963 convertible, driven only 800 miles, was demolished. Painter said McDevitt's apparent injuries were abrasions and lacerations.

Less than an hour later and only about three blocks away, a 1962 convertible driven by Walter Ziegler, 22, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 ran off Route 30 and struck a house, signs and a tree. Ziegler told the constable he was not injured.

Ziegler was driving east and ran off the north side of the highway near the A. J. Loudon Garage. His car damaged a house owned by Louise Clark, knocked down two metal signs and continued along the north sidewalk until it hit a tree near the Route 9 intersection.

Painter said the car virtually was demolished. Both crashes are under investigation, he said.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Near the end of the run of a Des Moines street bus, three passengers remained. Their given names were Ruby, Pearl, and Opal.

Beaver Court Defers Youth's Murder Trial

BEAVER — The trial of Walter Hlista Jr., charged with the Feb. 28 murder of his father, Walter Hlista, Harmony Township police chief, has been moved to September, at the request of his counsel, Atty. John N. Contee.

Atty. Contee's request was granted after he was told that one of his key witnesses, Dr. Herbert E. Thomas, a psychologist at the University of Pittsburgh, was called to Canada suddenly because of the severe illness of his mother, and could not testify this week.

Hlista was carrying a rosary when he entered the courtroom this morning for the scheduled trial.

Officers Study Death Of Beaver Falls Man

Pennsylvania State Police are continuing an investigation today into the death of Robert Cumberland of Beaver Falls, whose body was found Sunday morning on the grounds of the Elks Camp near Cannelton in Darlington Township.

Harold Gantz of R.D. 2 Darlington, caretaker, found the body in high grass.

A coroner's inquest showed Mr. Cumberland died shortly after midnight of internal injuries and a crushed chest. The investigation showed that he may have been run over by a car, while lying in the grass.

He was an employee of the Babcock - Wilcox Tube Co. in Beaver Falls. Several employees of the firm held a gathering at the camp Saturday night.

Area To Send Delegation

1,400 Due For Lakeside Methodists' Conference

An estimated 1,400 ministers and laymen, including delegations from East Liverpool district churches, will attend the 25th annual North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church, which will begin Tuesday at Lakeside, near Cleveland.

A major decision facing the conference will be a proposed $7 million campaign for the Methodist colleges and Wesley Foundation in Ohio. The Ohio Conference, the other Methodist conference in the state, already has agreed to participate in the campaign.

Presiding at the six-day meeting will be Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Cleveland, resident bishop of the Ohio area. Bishop Werner has presided over all the annual conference sessions since his election to the episcopacy in 1948.

A highlight of the conference will be the election of delegates to the General and North Central Jurisdictional Conferences to be held next year.

The North-East Ohio Conference will open with a service of communion and commemoration, paying homage to ministers and their wives who died during the past year. The memorial address will be given by the Rev. D. Finley Wood, minister of First Methodist Church of Bedford.

Key report of the Tuesday afternoon session will be the district superintendents report to be presented by Dr. Charles Stoneburner, Steubenville District superintendent. The message is a com-positive report on behalf of the eight district superintendents.

Presenting the messages at the evening devotional services will be Dr. Peter A. Bertocci, professor of Philosophy at Boston University.

Guest bishop attending will be Bishop Costen Harrell. Since his retirement from the denomination's Charlotte (N.C.) Area in 1956, he has been serving as professor in the field of practical theology and pastoral ministry at Candler School of Theology at Atlanta, Ga.

Climaxing the Saturday evening business session will be the reading of pastoral appointments by Bishop Werner and his cabinet of district superintendents. Over 600 ministers will be appointed, with the majority being returned to their present churches, while others will be given new assignments for the next twelve-month period.

Bishop Werner is to deliver the devotional addresses which begin each day's session. In addition, he will present the address during the traditional Sunday morning worship and ordination service June 23, which closes the annual legislative and administrative conference.

GOP Figure Dies

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Funeral services are scheduled Tuesday for Charles L. Heaberlin of Hurricane, a prominent Republican figure, who died Saturday in a Charleston hospital. He was 80.

Court Studies Legal Briefs On Appraisal

Circuit Judge James G. McClure was in Wheeling today studying legal briefs submitted last week in the suit filed by a group of Weirton taxpayers over Hancock County's property reappraisal program.

The taxpayers seek a writ of mandamus to compel Hancock County Court to certify the 1962 assessments for use in 1963, rather than the property assessments made under the reappraisal program.

It was indicated today that Judge McClure may reach a decision by tonight on the mandamus request.

The suit of Atty. Frank A. Pietrantoni and Ralph Barone Jr. asks that an order be returned compelling county commissioners to sign the 1963 tax books containing the 1962 assessment figures.

Using the figures based on the property reappraisal program conducted by Cole, Layer & Trumble of Dayton would allow a $28 million hike in appraisals and mean an additional $850,000 for tax-levying bodies in the county. The property reappraisal program has been tied up in litigation for several months.

Continuance Set In Property Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today reluctantly granted a six-month continuance to allow a property owner time to comply with a fire marshal's order and then set July 17 as the deadline to have the house at Central Ave. and Ridge Alley repaired.

"I've about reached the end of the rope; this has been dragging on for six months," Judge Chertoff told Robert H. Kaiser, 1221 Pennsylvania Ave. "I think you are more interested in passing the buck than in repairing the property," the judge added.

Kaiser explained repairs have been started but the house has been vandalized and he lacks the funds to purchase additional equipment to replace that which was damaged.

Kaiser originally was haled into court Dec. 20 on an affidavit signed by George Boston of Wintersville, deputy state fire marshal, alleging the property owner had "willfully or negligently failed, neglected or refused to comply" with a repair order issued Sept. 4, 1960.

Egypt Nationalizes All Of Its Drugstores

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government nationalized all drugstores in Egypt Sunday and closed about 50 medicine factories, the newspaper Al-Ahram reported today.

Health Minister Nabawi Mohandis claimed one of the immediate results would be a 25 per cent cut in medicine prices.

Detective Really Put Heart Into His Work

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Detective Joseph Kelly of the forgery squad really put his heart into his work when he was assigned to bring in a rubber check artist. The fellow was signing his worthless checks with the name "Joseph Kelly."

Kelly — the real one, arrested Kelly — the bogus one, at his home. Reported the detective: "When I flashed my badge and introduced myself as Joe Kelly, the detective, the man grinned and shook his head in disbelief. 'Well, how about that?' he said."

Officers Elected For Boys State

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Memo to politicians:

There's a young fellow at Buckeye Boys State who may be able to give you some tips on how to influence people and win votes. Arthur Woodruff, Columbus East High School student, won a seat on the Boys State supreme court bench Sunday with an astounding 997 votes of 1,300 cast for 56 justice candidates. And he didn't pass out a single piece of campaign literature.

Woodruff's campaign was strictly vocal—so he must be quite a salesman.

All balloting for the six state administrative offices was much closer than that, although the Nationalist Party prevailed over the Federalists in all but one contest. Robert R. Weller, 17, N-Boardman, was elected governor by a 688-605 tally over Wayne Turney, F-Delaware.

With the inauguration ceremonies, self-government began in the mythical state sponsored by the American Legion of Ohio on the Ohio University campus. New legislative, executive and judicial processes are under way and will continue for several days before the 26th annual teen-age program concludes.

Besides Weller, major office-holders include: Secretary of State John Gunning, N-Chillicothe. Auditor Terry Moore, F-Hamilton.

Gasoline Fumes Ignited, Damage Kitchen In Home

Two windows and wainscoting in the kitchen of a West End home were damaged extensively Saturday afternoon when gasoline fumes were ignited, firemen reported.

Acting Asst. Chief Merle McShane said firemen were called to the home of G. L. Turner, 863 W. 8th St., at 12:59 p. m. but Turner had extinguished the fire with a garden hose.

Mrs. Turner was filling a blowtorch with gasoline and the fumes were ignited by the pilot light on the cooking stove. Her husband threw the torch in the sink and then on the floor, firemen said.

An awning and trellis of a vacant home at Locust St. and Long Alley were damaged by a child playing with matches Saturday afternoon.

Firemen said a neighbor, Clyde Hunt, extinguished the blaze with a garden hose after the youngster set fire to the awning and it spread to the trellis. The alarm was turned in at 3:38 p. m.

The home is owned by Mrs. W. E. Bloor, 316 Louisiana Ave., Chester, firemen said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school junior who undertook a part-time job which will enable me to save money for college.

A certain married woman who works in the shipping department where I load trucks has been very nice to me. I think she would like to be a lot nicer and this is my problem.

She is supposed to be through work at 6 p.m. but she always hangs around to have a cup of coffee with me. Her husband works the night shift and she says she doesn't have anything to do at home.

Yesterday she told me I ought to part my hair in the middle and then she took her comb out of her purse and started combing. She got so close to me she steamed up my glasses. I like her, Ann, but I don't want to get mixed up with a married woman.

She has pull with the boss and I can't take a chance on hurting her feelings. Please tell me what to do.—NO JOKE.

Dear No Joke: Tell that shipping room Cleopatra you think she is charming, but married women are strictly out of bounds. Then part your hair on the side, Buster.

Humility Not Dead

Dear Ann: I am furious with the mother of those eight children who wrote she "could scream" when she sees someone on the porch with a box of hand-me-down clothes.

Lots Will Open Today

Supervising Newell playlots will be Janet Robison, 4th St., and Susan Logston, Clark Field. Regional playground supervisors include Mark Wilson, West End, and David Wagoner, East Junior High.

Employers Advised Of Reservist Leaves

Employers of Ohio National Guardsmen and Reservists are urged to make the necessary arrangements to grant them leaves of absence for military training duty during the coming summer months, according to William H. Colley Jr., regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Veterans Re-employment Rights at Cleveland.

Colley explained the applicable provisions of the amended Universal Military Training and Service Act.

Upon completion of summer training, the Guardsman or Reservist shall be reinstated by his employer, with such seniority, status, pay rate and vacation rights—as he would have had had he not been away from his job. Colley emphasized the point that it isn't necessary for the Guardsman or Reservist to use his regular vacation time in which to serve his military training duty. Vacation time due must be granted in addition to the leave needed to perform the military duty. However, an employee, if he desires, may use his normal vacation period to fulfill, when possible, his summer military training duty.

American Soldiers Do Lots Of Reading

HONOLULU (AP)—GIs check out nearly 30 million books a year from special service libraries, according to Army statistics.

At Schofield Barracks in Hawaii, Miss Cecily Woodward, post librarian, came up with these facts about soldiers' reading habits:

—Senior officers read more fiction than do enlisted men.

—James Jones' novel, "From Here To Eternity," which is about life at Schofield Barracks, is the Schofield soldiers' favorite novel.

—Since 25th Infantry Division Units moved into Thailand last year, books on guerrilla warfare and Southeast Asia have been in big demand.

The woman may speak for herself but she certainly does not speak for me. I have seven children. My husband has a good job, as hers does. We are not wealthy either — just comfortable. Our friends and relatives have been bringing us hand-me-downs ever since the children were babies. It's been a great help.

I've never considered hand-me-downs an expression of pity. They are gifts of good will from people who like and respect us. The children's attitudes are extremely healthy. They never have been too proud to wear second-hand clothes. They actually argue about who is going to get what.

So, please, Ann Landers, make it plain that SOME of us love to see those boxes. Humility is not an altogether extinct virtue. —GRATEFUL.

Dear Grateful: You made it plain and I thank you.

Cigarette 'Bum'

Dear Ann: I have a touchy problem which revolves around a headstrong boss and his irritating habit of bunning cigarettes. Mr. H. is under doctor's orders not to smoke — so he doesn't buy any. His son works in the office and has asked me to let him know at once if I see his father smoking.

If Mr. H. spots a pack of cigarettes on my desk he takes one. When I'm away from my desk he goes into the top drawer and helps himself. Whenever he sees me smoking he asks for a cigarette.

Yesterday when he asked for a cigarette I reminded him that the doctor said he should not smoke. He told me to mind my own business — that I was paid to work and not to lecture him about his health.

He bums from 8 to 10 cigarettes from me every day and I am sick of it. Please don't tell me to stop smoking. I enjoy it. What I need is a solution to the problem. —UP IN SMOKE.

Dear Up: The first thing in the morning, hand over your pack of cigarettes to the boss' son. When you want a cigarette ask him for one.

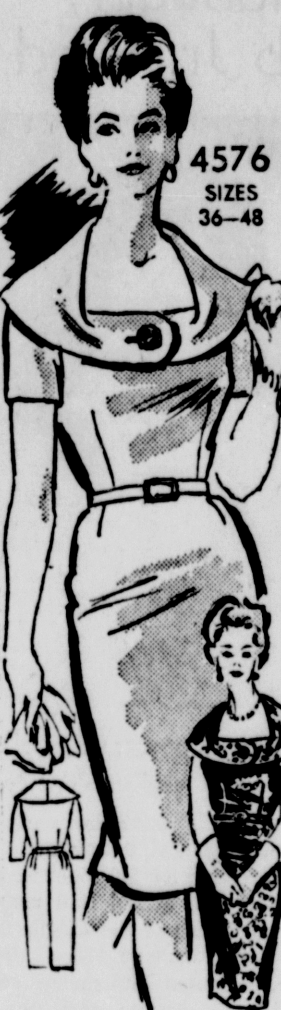

The boss will see no cigarettes on your desk, nor will he find any cigarettes in your desk drawer. When he sees you smoking and asks for a cigarette, refer him to his son. When you leave for the day take your cigarettes with you.

Test May Solve Water Shutoff

The water department expects to know early this week whether a test is successful in helping determine the cause of a mysterious cutoff that left virtually all of East End without water for two hours Wednesday afternoon.

In allowing the Thompson Ave. basins to drain and refill, Supt. Donald T. Duke said the department expects to learn if reoperating the manually - controlled valves made any difference.

The valves, the smallest of which is 16 inches, require three or four men to operate, Duke said.

If the test is successful, the department will continue with a project to repair the walls. The cutoff occurred as one of the twin basins was being allowed to drain for the work.

Thieves Now Ready For Rock And Roll

Thieves stole a phonograph valued at $150 and $14 worth of records from his car parked on Pennsylvania Ave., Richard Kelly, 1027 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police Friday night.

Kelly told police he noticed the car had been broken into between 1:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Friday although the auto had been parked on the street for an extended period.

Police said nothing on the car had been broken, however, pointing out the window was down about half an inch and the door was unlocked.

Besides the RCA Victor phonograph, the thieves took 14 45-rpm records, Kelly said.

Morgan's Raiders Recalled In New Book By Max Gard

A timely review of the dashing Confederate cavalry raider John Hunt Morgan, who scared the wits out of many a Columbian County farmer and shopkeeper a century ago, has been published this month by R. Max Gard, well-known area historian.

In his 62-page book, Gard takes a close look at the famed 1863 invasion across the Ohio River by Morgan and some 2,300 men, concentrating on the final stages of the raid in Ohio.

The chase by the Union regulars and militia, the thefts of horses, money, food and bolts of calico, the mixture of high adventure and sad bloodshed are recalled anew in the publication, which features a map of the route and various illustrations.

Much has been written about the young, dark - haired general, called "prince of horse thieves" in the north and "Thunderbolt of the Confederacy" in the South.

But much of the raid in Ohio—especially after the battle at Buffington Island when Col. Basil Duke, Morgan's brother-in-law and postwar author on the invasion, was captured — has been less authoritatively reported.

Gard has endeavored to provide an overall picture of the venture which ended with Morgan's capture near West Point, in Columbian County, after a brief skirmish near Monroeville. The general, of course, later escaped from the Ohio State Penitentiary and fought again, to be shot down by a Union force at Greenville, Tenn., the following year.

Gard, 49, who operates an antique shop between Lisbon and Hanoverton, is an authority on area history and writes regularly for the Farm & Dairy publication at Salem.

A native of Waverly, W. Va., he has resided in Columbiana County for 33 years and has served as county commissioner. He and Atty. William H. Vordrey Jr. compiled and published a history of the Sandy & Beaver Canal in 1952.

STUDY IN CONTRAST. These three winners in the junior bathing beauty contest Saturday at the Potters Picnic at Meyers Lake Park in Canton range from near tears to smiles. Seemingly on the verge of tears is Tyra Linn Ealy, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ealy, 1272 Erie St., who was named first place winner. Mike Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, 220 Ravine St., second place winner, is almost happy while the third place winner, Marietta Sue Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brock, 715 Garner Ave., flashes a happy smile.

dren and their mothers or fathers were seated in three large circles on the ballroom floor. All of the entrants received wave baby sets.

The nurses also served as judges for the "junior bathing beauty contest," in which East Liverpool children won all three places.

Tyra Linn Ealy, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ealy, 1272 Erie St., received $50 for her first place victory, with $25 going to Mike Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, 220 Ravine St., for second place.

Marietta Sue Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brock, 715 Garner Ave., won third place and $10.

More than 400 youngsters received prizes, with girls getting baby dolls and "shooting shell" rifles going to the boys.

To avoid the wild rushes staged in the past in which children (and parents) broke line and rushed the stage to get the prizes, the committee followed a procedure it established last year with girls lining up on one side of the stage and boys on the other.

But with many already in line, a wild scramble for places started when the park manager informed the entrants they were lined up incorrectly.

The contest was for children between 4 and 7.

Between the baby show and the outdoor bathing beauty contest, a penny scramble was held on the ballroom floor with youngsters in three age groups scrambling wildly to scoop up the 2,500 pennies tossed on the floor.

The picnic committee, with Roy Masker of East Liverpool as secretary, was kept busy from early morning until the crowd departed handling the formal program and keeping its eye on other activities to make certain the picnic ran smoothly.

Highest Court Rules Against Bank Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today merger of the Philadelphia National Bank and Girard Trust Corn Exchange Bank, both in Philadelphia, would violate anti-trust law.

The case was the first in a series in which the Justice Department has attempted to stop the mergers of banks on anti-trust grounds.

Justice Brennan delivered the majority decision.

Justice Harlan dissented in an opinion in which Justice Stewart joined.

Justice Goldberg in a separate memorandum said he dissented from the court's holding that the Clayton Anti-Trust Act applied to the proposed merger, but added, "I wish to make clear that I do not necessarily dissent from the judgment invalidating the merger."

tions of the West Virginia state beer laws.

Sheriff's deputies raided the Owls Club in Weirton shortly after 1 a. m. Sunday and seized a roulette table and craps table while about 20 patrons looked on.

The sheriff's office, saying it acted on prior information, obtained a search and seizure warrant from Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland to enter the club.

Deputies cited James Hanna and Phillip Mattucci on gaming charges and hearings are set July 1 before Squire Herron. They were released after posting $500 bonds.

Following the Owls Club raid, Tony Leon of Weirton made an official complaint before Squire John Bryan of New Cumberland and Constable Patsy Cortez of Weirton obtained a search and seizure warrant to enter a warehouse in the county seat.

Constable Cortez gained entrance and asked West Virginia State Police in Weirton and sheriff's deputies for assistance in impounding 56 slot machines valued at approximately $84,000. The warehouse is located on River Ave., near New Cumberland City Hall.

The slot machines were hauled in trucks to State Police headquarters in Weirton. Squire Bryan said he issued a warrant for the arrest of Bennie Phillips of New Cumberland, charging him with illegal possession of gaming devices.

State Police said Phillips is operator of the New Cumberland Vending Co. His hearing is set Friday night at 7 before Squire Bryan.

The sheriff's office has possession of the gaming equipment seized at the Owls Club.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make easier the tedious job of painting the trim around windowpanes?

A. Try cutting a piece of newspaper exactly the size of the panes, moistening this slightly and placing over the glass. Complete your painting, remove the paper, and you should find your glass completely spotless.

Q. How can I clean ivory objects?

A. Ivory objects, all in one piece, can safely be cleaned with soap and water. If, however, several pieces are glued together, it is better to take a piece of raw lemon, dip it into salt, and rub the surfaces with it. Let the juice dry on the ivory before you wipe it off with a damp cloth.

Q. How can I renovate some black iron gloves?

A. Touch the worn spots with a camel's hair brush, dipped into a mixture of olive oil and black ink.

BABY SHOW WINNERS. These nine youngsters won prizes in the three age brackets of the annual baby show Saturday at the Potters Picnic at Meyers Lake Park in Canton. They are Cheryl, 11-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rose, 817 St. Clair Ave., first; Georgene, 6-month-old daughter of Mrs. Mary K. Jackson, 1003 Crawford Rd., Wellsville, second; and Gregory, 4-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan, 1105 1/2 St. George St. The 1-2 winners in the second row are Douglas, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shaw, 717 1/2 Washington St., Wellsville; first; Bobbie Ann, 1 1/2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Puckett Jr. of Sebring, second; and Kevin, 1 1/2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Purton, 1560 Eturia St. Winners in the 2-3 bracket in the third row are Christy Lynn Madison, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Madison of St. Clair Ave. Ext., first; Joey Moss, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moss Jr. of Berkshire Rd., second; and Vicki Lynn Miller, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Miller of the Y. & O. Rd.

Date Awaited In Conference On City Crew

No date has been fixed for a meeting between representatives of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, and City Council's finance committee to discuss threatened layoffs or cutbacks in the street department because of a lack of funds.

A date had been fixed tentatively for Thursday but had to be canceled when Councilman George Willshaw, finance chairman, said he would be unable to attend because of a prior commitment.

The union had approved a motion Friday night directing Ken McCarty, president, to set up the meeting with the finance committee, declaring it "will not sit back and accept any cutback or layoffs."

The union officials had conferred with Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin in which the director stressed there is only enough money in the street department fund to operate on the present basis for three months.

A layoff will be necessary July 1 unless additional funds are allocated this week, the director said.

Meanwhile, Owen said today he has not been contacted by deputy fire marshals to arrange a meeting to discuss the North Side fire station. A deputy inspector visited the building last Thursday with Asst. Chief Alfred Van Dyne but no action was taken pending a meeting with city officials.

Ohio's Senate Set To Boost Speed Limits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate is expected tonight to give the state's motorists a little more latitude on expressway speed limits.

It is the first order of business as lawmakers return to Columbus for their 25th—and next to last—week of the regular session.

The measure to increase limited access highway speed limits from 65 to 70 miles an hour outside cities and from 50 to 60 inside municipalities already has House approval.

The legislative week, which will run through Friday again, is expected to see final enactment of most of the program proposed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Coming up Tuesday are Senate floor votes on administration bills to create "Golden-Age villages" for non-psychotic aged inmates of state hospitals, make terms of cabinet officials concurrent with the governor's term of four years and appropriate $20 million for additions and betterments.

Also up for Senate decision Tuesday, in what promises to be one of the longest days of the session, are House-approved bills to:

Create several municipal courts and extend the jurisdiction of some existing courts.

Tribute Paid To Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Envoys from around the world he tried to guide toward peace mourned Pope John XXIII today at a solemn Requiem Mass under the soaring dome of St. Peter's Basilica.

An empty symbolic coffin was on a somber black catafalque, ringed by 96 flickering candles.

Sitting near the catafalque were the envoys of 81 nations and world organizations. They included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of the United States, Prime Minister Sean Lemass of Ireland, Prince Albert of Belgium and the foreign ministers of France and West Germany.

Pope John had sought Christian unity. Today, for the first time in nearly 1,000 years, representatives of the Russian Orthodox Church attended a funeral Mass for a Roman Catholic Pope.

The triple-crowned tiara of the papacy, silver and gold studded with precious stones, rested on a cushion atop the coffin, shimmering in the candle glow.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Would you please tell me how to remove this yellow from my diapers? It is on all of our clothing. I am ashamed to hang my laundry out where the neighbors can see it. It seems the more bleach I use, the worse they get.

I am enclosing a sample for you to see.

C.H.: I have forwarded your sample diaper and letter to a home service director of a washer manufacturing company named Ann Olson. Here's her answer:

DEAR HELOISE: The yellow color in the diaper is iron rust; we quickly removed this rust stain by dipping the diaper in a solution of one tablespoon of oxalic acid crystals to one gallon of HOT water. Obtain this at a drug store. MARK IT POISON, and KEEP AWAY FROM CHILDREN.

Sometimes garments will have to be soaked for as long as 10 minutes.

Then, rinse them in water to which sodium bicarbonate has been added. Use this in a plastic pail and then wash diapers through the complete diaper wash procedure being careful to use very hot water, being sure to add a non-precipitating water conditioner first.

The rinsing in soda and the washing prevents re-crystallization which could be harmful to the fabric if dried in the garment.

These crystals are acid and MUST NOT BE USED in a washer, a porcelain sink or bathtub. A glass container or a plastic diaper pail or plastic dishpan might be the most readily available container.

USE RUBBER GLOVES when working with this.

We suggest that the source of the rust be corrected. However, if existing conditions must remain, use a detergent, NOT A SOAP in the wash, with the addition of a non-precipitating water conditioner in the rise. These aids should be put in the water first (to hold the iron in suspension) before adding the clothing.

Chlorine bleach makes the condition worse because the iron is oxidized by the chlorine.

For those who must use bleach... mix a non-precipitating water conditioner with some water first and then add your diluted bleach.

Also, when using bleach add the water conditioner to the wash water as well as the rinse. Both detergent and the water conditioner help to tie up the iron to the water. Soap will not do this.

If diapers are kept in a chlorine solution (a good practice) in a diaper pail before washing, add a non-precipitating water conditioner to the water first to hold the iron rust in suspension.

ANN OLSON.

P.S.: And Mothers, please don't send me diapers and clothing. We just cannot return these things. One day this week, a woman sent a two-inch dead roach! I don't like 'em. Dead or alive.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I do not have much storage space so I store my extra blankets between my mattress and box springs. I use blouse hangers for my daughter's dresses and can get six on one hanger this way. Skirt hangers can be used for shorts and slacks as well as skirts. We can get twelve of these on one hanger.

COLLENE.

DEAR HELOISE: My family used to complain that the whites of my poached and fried eggs were tough.

A friend told me I would not have this trouble if I would remove the eggs from the refrigerator the night before using them so that they would be room temperature — I found this to be true!

HUTCHINSON.

Yes, sir, we tried this too. But doggone, if I could figure out why.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you keep a generous amount of ice cream in your freezer, from which you serve your family over a period of a week or longer, wrap the container completely in foil. This will prevent the ice cream from becoming icy and also protects its flavor. Rewrap the container tightly each time after it has been opened.

ELEANOR LYNCH.

Refunding Plan Awaits Council

City Council is expected to take final action tonight on a complicated proposal in refunding the $1,240,000 in municipal bonds to save the city $54,338 in interest charges over the remaining 25 years of the bonds. They were issued in 1956 and 1957 to pay for the sewage system and treatment plant.

The proposal advanced by Thomas Summers, a representative of Fahey, Clark & Co., a Cleveland investment firm, provides the city will issue $1,240,000 in refunding bonds with the proceeds from the sale to be invested in U.S. government bonds.

The invested proceeds of the new bond issue will build up interest until the sewage plant bonds can be called on Dec. 1, 1966. The proceeds from the investment in the government bonds will be used to retire the present obligations.

The changeover will save the city $2,500 annually in interest charges. Summers told Council on June 4 when it enacted a resolution of intent, declaring it planned to accept the proposal.

'Cardiogram Clinic' Hailed At Moundsville

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — "EKG Sunday" proved a great success in Moundsville yesterday as more than 1,000 turned out for a cost-free electrocardiogram clinic — the first of its kind in the nation.

Marshall County Health Department officials said only 329 could be examined. More than twice that many were turned away. Other clinics will be scheduled later.

Jack Anderson, a Moundsville pharmacist and city councilman, said "It was just a shot in the dark whether anyone would come. As it turned out, we were swamped."

Ohio Education Measures Speeded

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio — What first appeared to be a disjointed approach to Ohio's higher education problems is showing new cohesion as the General Assembly churns into its final two weeks of working sessions.

A week highlighted by conference committee agreement on a bill creating a board of regents to oversee all state-assisted higher education also saw action on four other education measures. All are being geared to fit under the umbrella concept of the regents bill.

High on the emphasis list is the relatively new field of technical education, designed to provide specialized training beyond the high school to fill the growing need for assistants to back up college-trained professionals.

Final legislative action is expected within a week on a bill to expand the realm of technical education by setting up machinery for technical institute districts embracing part or all of one or more counties. It also would give district trustees taxing authority.

The bill was recommended for passage after being amended to give the regents instead of the State Board of Education control over the districts. It now awaits House action.

In the Senate, a House-passed bill to permit community colleges to include technical schools in their operations is out of committee and ready for floor action. This bill also has been amended to conform to provisions in the regents measure.

School Income Tax
The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to give local-option income tax authority to all higher education districts—technical institutes, community colleges and branch universities. It also extends the tax power to joint vocational school districts.

The bill, which has been undergoing extensive revision for most of this legislative session, came onto the House floor Wednesday as Republican policy legislation, increasing its chances for Senate passage.

It's permissive legislation that would let any of the education districts place before the voters a proposal for an income tax of up to 1 per cent. People within the district would be taxed where they live rather than where they're employed.

That provision was added to the bill to cut down on bookkeeping problems.

University Branches
Legislative action was completed Wednesday on a bill affecting the operation of branch university districts. It provides that branches which form districts under a law enacted in 1961 may operate either under a district administrator or a seven-member board of trustees.

A companion bill that would permit university branch trustees to levy operating funds outside the 10-mill limitation still is awaiting initial action in the Senate. Its sponsor, Sen. Robert E. Stockdale, R-Kent, says he's not sure whether he will ask that it be brought to the floor.

State Bond Issue
One of the big money measures of the session, a proposed $250 million bond issue for education, parks and state facilities, is expected to come up for floor action in the House Tuesday or Wednesday. It passed the Senate without trouble June 5.

The Education portion of the issue would be split to give state universities and their branches $140 million, municipal universities $35 million and public schools $35 million.

House Education Chairman Robert H. Longworth, R-Carroll, says he's highly pleased with the way the education measures are moving.

"I would say we'll end up with a program as sound as any this side of California."

Lisbon St. Crash Damages 2 Cars
Two cars were damaged in a collision Saturday night on Lisbon St. at W. 9th St., officers reported.

The mishap involved a 1963 sedan driven by Stanley J. Franczek, 33, of 525 Washington St., Newell, and a 1951 sedan operated by David Aikens, 22, of 834 W. 9th St., officers said.

The collision smashed in the right side of the Aikens car and damaged the left front chrome strip and bumper of the Franczek auto, police said.

Franczek said he was headed north on Lisbon St., following Aikens, when the local motorist

Public School Funds
But while the legislature is pushing the capital improvements issue and various permissive measures for education districts, it's virtually ignoring educators' demands for more public school operating money under the state school foundation program.

Except for the built-in increases in the foundation program as spelled out in the appropriations bill, there apparently will be no immediate action on legislation to benefit public school operations.

There's a good chance, however, that the foundation program will come under thorough scrutiny by legislative researchers after adjournment. A short-term study is expected to be requested within a week with an eye to considering foundation increases during a special session of the legislature in the fall.

pullled off the street to the left and then turned back onto the pavement, attempting a right turn. Aikens told police he switched on his turn signal and then pulled to the left to help round the sharp turn. As he made the swing to the right, his car was hit by Franczek's, he said.

Man Shot To Death
SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — O'Dell Davis, 42, of Harmony Falls, Nicholas County, was shot to death by his mother-in-law Sunday during a family argument, state police reported.

Party Technique Told GOP Group
Prof. John G. Patterson of Bethany College discussed organization techniques in a political party at a meeting of the Hancock County Young Republicans' Club Friday night in the Weirton Community Center.

He also explained his work in the Falk Foundation, offering political education courses at Bethany. Patterson is professor of history and political science and the Falk Foundation courses are offered students at only a few colleges.

Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, 18th Ohio District GOP central committeeman, discussed work in his district. There was a round-table discussion, with James Ravoira, chairman of the Hancock County GOP Executive Committee, among the participants.

John Currenton Jr., president, presided. Refreshments were served 25.

Coal-Injection Unit To Be Put On Display
WEIRTON (AP) — The Weirton Steel Co. said Saturday its new coal-injection system will be viewed June 20 by persons attending a blast furnace symposium at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

About 200 are expected for the first public look at the new system.

Southern Crop Of Peaches Moves To District Markets

The southern peach crop is beginning to arrive in area markets and shipments will continue to grow in quality and quantity as the season hits its peak, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Unlike Ohio, which will produce virtually no peaches this year because most trees were winter-killed, the southeastern states will have a large crop, scheduled to be marketed in June and July, Watkins said.

During June peaches are the fourth most popular fruit, ranked behind watermelons, oranges and bananas. This year oranges may be displaced from this list as the Florida crop is practically all marketed and the California crop is not large.

Watermelon prices have again worked a bit lower with the quality quite good. Cantaloupe prices are mostly unchanged with some improvement in quality. Banana prices are quite steady with the range in price of 11 cents on specials to about 18 cents per pound. Blueberry prices are largely unchanged, still quite expensive early in the season.

Strawberry supplies from local growers are on the short side this year with retail prices holding above average. Quality has been quite variable, but this week and next is the time to enjoy this fruit.

Other fresh fruit on the market now, at a higher than usual price level, include West Coast sweet cherries, plums and apricots, as well as pineapple and limes.

Fresh vegetables produced closer to this area and priced quite economically include leaf lettuce, cabbage, radish, green onions and spinach. Other items of fresh produce at reasonable prices are potatoes, tomatoes, celery, carrots, asparagus and rhubarb.

Prices on fresh pork items at retail area a bit higher this week as the trade catches up with pork price increases on live hogs during the past few weeks.

Live animal prices weakened a little, especially on the heavier, more fatty type. Present indications are that pork prices will remain at about present levels for a period of several weeks.

Ham, bacon and picnics, as well as Canadian style bacon and cottage rolls have still not reflected all of the price increase on pork and are good possibilities for money saving choices.

Beef prices are largely unchanged. Beef producers are keeping a wary eye on developing drought conditions in the Southwest where ranges are loaded to capacity.

Any prolonged period of dry weather could force the unexpected marketing of many of these cattle. This would cause a further drop in the already depressed beef market.

In the meantime steaks, ground beef, and various cuts from the chuck hold promise for good shopping opportunities.

Lamb prices have declined from the late spring higher price level and offer additional choices for variety in this area's markets.

Straight Scoop

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — During a narcotics raid here that uncovered $100,000 worth of illegal drugs, a small arsenal of firearms and other articles, officers also found two handwritten manuscripts by one of the arrested suspects. One was entitled "Gun Thunder" and the other "Journey Into Crime."

More Boosts Speculated In Steel Prices

CLEVELAND (AP) — More selective price increases may be made by the steel industry after agreement is reached on new labor contracts, the magazine Steel said today.

The trade publication noted that the anticipated steel labor settlement being discussed in Pittsburgh might be reasonable enough that producers can expect to offset the added costs with improvements in productivity. But if this is not the case, Steel said, "buyers can expect another round of price increases. Chances are that steelmakers will move selectively on products they didn't touch in April."

"It won't be surprising if they boost their quotations on bars and plates," the magazine observed.

Demand for most steel products remains good, Steel said, but added that the trend in new orders is downward. "Users have stopped buying for inventory purposes and are taking only what they need for the short term."

Forecasting that total steel shipments in the second quarter probably will top 23 million tons, Steel said this will make it the best three-month period since the first quarter of 1960, when buyers were rebuilding inventories depleted during the lengthy steel strike.

The publication predicted June shipments may match the estimated 8 million tons shipped in May.

"Although incoming orders have dropped sharply in the last few weeks," Steel said, "shipments have been steady. Setbacks and cancellations have been minor. Settlement of steel labor negotiations will trigger some more adjustments, but it won't have much impact on June shipments," which are pretty well firmed up by now.

Grange Session Set On Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith and Bobby Jack visited Sunday with William Beckhold and Miss Mame Beckhold of Bellevue, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Conkle and sons of Lisbon visited Sunday with Mrs. Blanche Williams.

Indoor Garden Used In Decorating Scheme

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

An indoor garden seems to be the new order in decorating. It's fine as long as you don't make a jungle out of your house.

Plants — tall, short, fat — can add a note of cheer to any house. You can't beat nature. But a sense of balance and proportion are the first requirements in choosing and arranging plants.

Use as many plants as you can wisely integrate into the design of your room, but don't create clutter. One straggly little vine or weedy looking snake plant can ruin your indoor garden.

A single plant can stand on its own if it has an elegant appearance. But it shouldn't look lost. Its purpose should be apparent — it has been singled out as a thing of beauty, it is supplying color accent in a unique way or it is softening its surroundings.

The trend is to keep plants together for a grand design. A piece of statuary in the arrangement can increase its importance.

Begin with a cut-philodendron or other tall plant, combining it with plants of different heights for special treatment. A shallow receptacle with some pebbles could be the base for the statuary. It may be as large as you like, if your room can take it.

Plants can be the focal point of a room, especially in warmer weather when a cozy fireplace lies dormant. They are indispensable in a room with lots of glass, placed near the window walls.

A good arrangement for any area could be two or three tall plants in different sizes, four to six medium-sized plants to fill in gaps below, a large tray or container of pebbles on which you can put a piece of statuary and surround it with a number of smaller plants with graceful foliage and color.

The choice of plants varies with the climate but plants at every level may be found to supply blooms some of the time.

The statuary may be any size from a very small piece to a large stone carving. Old decoys and wooden figure heads may be integrated nicely. Plants may be put on blocks to balance height.

Tall plants include palms, ferns, rubber plants, podocarpus, philodendron and bamboo. Ferns that are best grown indoors include hollyfern and birdnest-fern.

Medium-size plants include geraniums combined with variegated ivy, tuberous begonia, fuchsia, poinsettia, oxalis, lilies, impatiens. Small plants could be cactus, forget-me-not, kalanchoe, lily-of-the-valley, African violets, begonia, hyacinth, nasturtium.

Large important containers can add to the decorative effect but may clash and ruin a simple arrangement. A large container could be built to protect the floor.

A rectangle or square, four inches deep, of wood could be lined with pebbles, newspaper and an old-shower sheet under it. Into it could be placed plants directly in their clay pots.

All plants require good light whether they hang from the ceiling or stand on the floor.

They need to be kept clean, and leaves should be dusted occasionally, and of course, they need to be watered and given fresh air, especially during the winter. Hardy plants can tolerate some abuses but some fruit-growing plants, such as the Jerusalem-cherry will forfeit its fruit if it is in the presence of gas fumes.

You need not be a slave to plants if you choose them wisely.

Flash Flood Hits In Utah

By The Associated Press

A savage flash flood roared down the North Fork of the Duchesne River in northeastern Utah Sunday, cutting a 50-mile path of destruction.

A 10-foot wall of debris-filled water crashed through the campsite of the Richard L. Brown family, sweeping away their three sons and a family friend. One of the boys, Bradley Gale Brown, 4, drowned.

Volunteer crews plugged leaks that threatened the collapse of an earthen dam near Lander in central Wyoming, ending a threat to the community of 7,000. The level of the lake backed up by the dam 30 miles south of Lander on the Popo Agie River fell two feet after being swollen by heavy rains over the weekend.

The Utah flood carried away two other Brown boys, Rickie Lee, 8 and Steven Ferris, 5, and their friend, Robert Timmons, 16.

Timmons, awakened by the roar in the tent in which they were sleeping, saw "a wall of mud rushing toward us." He grabbed Rickie. The pair were carried 15 feet, landing on a pile of rocks. Steven made safety by himself.

Officials said the flood apparently was triggered when the earth-filled Little Deer Creek dam, 5 1/2 miles upstream, broke.

The water washed away several roads and bridges and badly damaged a forest service ranger station at Stockmore, about 75 miles east of Salt Lake City.

Daylong rain in eastern Colorado was hailed by farmers and ranchers who had been hard hit by a months-long drought.

There was an estimated $1 million damage from an hour-long cloudburst and hail Saturday in Denver.

Snow closed the tourist road up Pikes Peak near Colorado Springs and Trail Ridge Road—the nation's highest continuous highway—near Estes Park, Colo.

At Springer, in northwest New Mexico, a thunderstorm dumped two inches of rain, the first measurable moisture in a year. The heavy runoff broke an irrigation ditch and flooded the Springer hospital.

Drenching rains brought relief from summer heat over much of west and north Texas Sunday.

Elsewhere in the nation, scattered showers and thunderstorms fell along the south Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Seasonable temperatures prevailed over much of the country. East of the Rockies temperatures generally were in the 70s. Along the Gulf Coast the readings were in the 80s.

Crime in America cost some $16 million a day, according to the latest estimate.

Ideas Offered For Building Lounge Deck

PORTLAND, Ore. — You don't have to be a millionaire to have a wood lounge deck. And you don't have to be Mr. Ft. Knox to have an elegant deck.

Wood decks are enormously popular today because they are so kind to home owners' pocket-books, especially if the head man is handy with hammer and saw. Then, unless the site presents unusual technical difficulties, he can build the deck himself.

Elegance comes naturally to a wood deck. The material itself is richly endowed with texture and color. In addition, it is easily shaped and fitted to create individual effects.

Even a simple rectangle can be downright posh when the designer has given his imagination room to wiggle. For example, a new streamlined look can be obtained by laying Douglas fir 2-by-4 deck boards on edge rather than flat.

Then, instead of an ordinary railing around the perimeter, build a low, broad seat, again using 2-by-4 on edge. This not only gives the deck an attractive border, but provides permanent, built-in seating as well.

If the deck is elevated, overlooking a garden, it can gain interest with a handsome screen built along the edge and extending from the bench-railing to within a few inches of the ground.

The screen can be made with 1-by-1s applied vertically and spaced an inch apart. Structural posts can be exposed to divide the screen into panels. And for even more intriguing effect, structural beams can protrude several inches through the screen.

It's smart planning and dollar-saving to let the deck weather naturally. The soft silver shade that results from weathering is lovely. Paint on the surface of the deck can be attractive, but requires constant maintenance because of heavy traffic.

Brilliant color can be used, however, as accents. Vermillion or cobalt blue on the structural members exposed through the screen or on a railing could be rich and would point up the beauty of the naturally weathered wood. Colorful patio furniture, too, acts as accent.

Advice Offered On Pilot Lights

Question: We moved into an old house during the winter. The previous owner had the heating system converted to gas. He told us to turn off the pilot light during the summer. But a neighbor has given us the opposite advice. Who is correct?

Answer: It usually is better to keep the pilot light on all year—especially with an old furnace, where trouble is more likely to develop during the summer, when it isn't working, than during the winter.

During the off-months, there's a possibility that rust will form in the equipment and the flue. This can be avoided by keeping the pilot light going, since the small amount of heat generated by it will prevent condensation and corrosion. In addition, it will speed the draft up the chimney and help ventilate the basement, reducing dampness and mustiness.

What should be done is to change the filter and turn down the thermostat as far as it will go. When an unseasonable chill calls for heat or when winter arrives, turn up the thermostat and the heat will come on without the bother of relighting the pilot.

It's a good idea, too, to have a general inspection made to determine that everything is in working order. Try to be present when the inspection is made, so that you can get an answer to any question that is bothering you.

Khrushchev Handed Warning By Chinese

TOKYO (AP) — Red China has warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev that pro-Chinese elements will oust him if he continues to favor peaceful coexistence with the West over violent Communist revolutions.

In a letter to Khrushchev and the Soviet party, the Chinese leadership outlined 25 issues it wants debated at the talks representatives of the two major Communist powers will open July 5 in Moscow on the Soviet-Chinese ideological dispute.

"If the leading group in any party adopts a nonrevolutionary line and converts it into a reformist party, then Marxist-Leninists inside and outside the party will replace them and lead the people in making revolutions," the letter said.

Three Types Of Homes Stir Discussions

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When is a vacation home not a vacation home? When is a mobile home not a mobile home? When is a retirement home not a retirement home?

One answer at a time, please. Vacation — or second — homes began to grow in popularity as people found themselves with more and more available leisure time.

Instead of a day out with the kids, it became a weekend away at a second home in the woods or mountains or by the water. Which was fine, until the lady of the house discovered that she spent a considerable part of the weekend working instead of vacationing, principally because she had none or few of the maintenance conveniences available to her in her regular home.

Pop, too, found that the rustic way of life might have its advantages but cut into the loafing or sports activity time, since something always seemed to need fixing.

The results? A definite trend toward vacation homes which are complete, modern and maintenance-free. In other words, the second home is becoming more and more like the first home except that it's smaller.

Mobile homes, the kind we think of as being pulled by family cars, are undergoing a somewhat similar transformation.

They used to be small and rather basic in design and content. Now they are getting larger and larger, with high fashion interior design and furnishings. In many cases, they aren't even mobile, being far too big to be pulled around by anything less than a herd of elephants.

There must be many thousands of so-called mobile homes which were brought to particular sites by the sellers and haven't moved an inch since the buyers took over.

These people are thus buying homes of this type for reasons other than their mobility. One factor is price. Another is psychological. When you live in a mobile home, you always have the feeling that you can hitch 'er up any time you please and head out for the wide open spaces.

Developments of retirement homes, tremendously popular at the start, are meeting resistance in some areas of the country.

Builders have discovered that some old persons simply don't like the idea of living in a community peopled entirely by senior citizens. One major developer of retirement homes wouldn't allow any couples in one particular new neighborhood unless they were close to retirement age.

He recently lowered the age limit for new residents to 40, which is where life is supposed to begin anyhow. Despite this, other retirement communities have prospered. There apparently is no pat answer to this seeming contradiction, as you'd discover if you heard a group of builders and housing authorities debating the issue and attempting vainly to find a solution.

Poland Motorist Cited After 2-Way Collision

A Poland motorist was cited after a minor accident Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the intersection of Routes 7 and 30 about four and a half miles north of East Liverpool, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Minor damage resulted and no injuries were reported, officers said. Logue was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

New Varieties Of Steel Enter Building Scene

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Home owners faced with renovating and remodeling projects are always wise to see whether any of the newer building products fit in with their plans.

Even when there is a decision to stick with the time-tested materials, as often happens, there is a satisfaction in knowing that all areas have been explored.

In some cases, home owners are discovering that old-line materials have moved into the new-product category because of changes in design or method of usage.

Such is the case with steel, most often thought of in connection with large structural work. But new types of steel developed in industry laboratories, and new uses for old types, are bringing a steady stream of different products to the home construction market.

Varieties of coated steels, for instance, are being used for shingles as well as interior and exterior walls. Most durable is porcelain-on-steel, which is made by fusing a surface of impervious glass on steel.

Used for many years on refrigerators and stoves, this material is corrosion-resistant and comes in many colors with glossy, semi-gloss and matte finishes. Porcelain-on-steel also is used for shingles. Their durability is enhanced by the use of stainless steel screws to fasten them in place.

Steel siding made of porcelain-on-steel can be rapidly installed because it is made in large panels of from 4 to 8 feet in size.

An occasional rain will keep a porcelain-on-steel roof looking fresh and a spray with a garden hose will do as much for the sides of the house.

Vinyl-coated steels, a new development from industry laboratories, are also used for siding. They are available in a variety of textures ranging from fabric to wood grain patterns. Vinyl-steels are available for interior walls as well.

Both interior and exterior panels may be installed on ordinary wood studs or on another new development — nailable galvanized steel studs. These retain their rigidity and will not warp, crack or sag.

Doors made of steel are now designed for a wide range of architectural styles. The tight fit of an outside steel door makes air leakage virtually nil, keeping in the heat in winter and retaining cool air in summer.

Folding steel doors for interior use also are gaining acceptance. And steel garage doors are especially convenient when double doors can be hung as a single unit.

A steel beam across the top of a door opening permits a door two cars wide without a post in the center.

And just in case you are wondering how you can hang a picture on an interior wall made of steel—why, just use a magnet.

Inexpensive Night Light Important Safety Device

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

One expense the home owner can do without is the cost associated with accidents.

According to the National Safety Council and other authorities, a large portion of the accidents which plague this country occur right in the house — and many of them after dark.

After the lights have been turned out and the family has retired for the night, the house which seems so familiar during daylight hours takes on a new and often strange atmosphere.

Halls seem unfamiliar, the location of the stairway is uncertain, and one feels quite lost in the darkness. The smallest ray of light from a window, a doorway or any other source immediately gives us our bearing and we are at ease.

One of the very best things a home owner can do is to put small, low-cost night lamps in strategic places in the halls, bathroom and at the head of the stairs.

They are most needed when there are small children or elderly or sick persons in the family. As a rule these are simply plugged into the electric light socket in the baseboard or in any fixture which will enable them to shed a low light at any point where it is desirable.

These small night lights are available in hardware or electric supply stores.

Most of us would be indignant to find ourselves in a theater or moving picture house where the red exit lights were not glowing, but we seem perfectly happy to have our children grope around in a darkened house without a guiding light. It is estimated that only one home in a thousand is equipped with this inexpensive safety device.

5 Sweeps Of Twin Bills Keep AL Race Tightly Bunched

By MURRA YROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

American League President Joe Cronin was as happy today as a cat who fell on a plate of sardines.

The AL pennant race has become as hot as midsummer's day at the Equator. A year ago Cronin was gleeful over a "shoe-horn" battle. Today you'd have to use a crowbar to pry the jamming teams apart.

New York's league-leading Yankees took two from the Detroit Tigers for their first twin conquest of the year and discovered the Chicago White Sox were still in a virtual tie with them, only a hot breath away.

The Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians and Los Angeles Angels also swept doubleheaders, resulting in a complete shuffle of the next four places.

They're so tightly packed they must be suffering from claustrophobia. The Red Sox were third, 2½ games back of the Yankees and White Sox, with streaking Cleveland and slumping Baltimore each 3½ games back and Minnesota four games behind.

The Yankees bumped off the Tigers 4-0 and 6-3 before 44,357, largest crowd of the season at Yankee Stadium; the Red Sox copped their sixth in a row with 8-1 and 12-5 blitzes of the Orioles before 29,258 — biggest Boston turnout of the year; the White Sox edged the Kansas City A's 2-1 and 3-2 before 28,909 in Chicago; the Indians bumped off Washington 4-2 and 6-4 before a disappointing 15,347 attendance at Cleveland; and the Los Angeles Angels dismantled 36,160 Minneapolis-St. Paul customers by topping the Twins 5-3 and 5-4.

New York, Chisox In Virtual Tie

In the National League, where sizzling pennant races are as common as newly tinted blondes in a beauty parlor, the clubs split evenly in four of five twin bills.

The only exception was at Cincinnati where the Reds cuffed the poor old New York Mets 11-5 and 10-3. The Giants bowed 3-0 to the Houston Colts and then squeezed out a 4-3 verdict at San Francisco. The Braves won 5-3 and then lost 7-4 to the Phils at Milwaukee. The Dodgers dropped an 8-3 opener to the Cubs and came back for a 2-0 triumph at Los Angeles. The Cards fell before the Pirates 4-3, and won 11-7 at St. Louis.

New York got fine pitching from Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford and extra-base power from the hitters in skinning the toothless Tigers.

Terry hurled a three-hitter in the shutout opener. Tom Tresh's two-run double in the first inning and Tony Kubek's two-run homer in the third made work enjoyable for Terry. Stafford required help from Hal Reniff in the ninth but he had it made before then on two runs in the second and four in the fourth off ex-Yankee killer Hank Aguirre.

Detroit's Al Kaline, the AL's leading batter, ran his hitting streak to 14 games.

Johnny Buzhardt (8-2) pitched an opening game four-hitter, marred only by Norm Siebern's homer with two out in the ninth, and Juan Pizarro and Jim Brosnan combined their pitching talents in the second game for an eight-hitter for the White Sox.

In the second game, the White Sox scored the big two runs for a 3-1 lead in the sixth on a triple by Jim Landis, a double by Nellie Fox, Pete Ward's bunt single and Floyd Robinson's single.

Roman Mejias walloped three homers—equaling his season's total—in the happy Red Sox double rout of the Orioles, who lost their 15th of their last 18 decisions. Mejias hit two homers in the first game in backing Bill Monbouquette's (9-4) eight-hitter and the third in the free-hitting closer. Dick Stuart cracked his 15th homer—and his fifth in as many games—in the opener for the Red Sox.

The Angels put on a couple of late uprisings, scoring three runs in the ninth inning of the opener and two in the 11th of the closer to cut up the Twins twice. Felix Torres got key hits in both games.

Fred Whitfield's three-run pinch homer in the ninth inning of the second game and a cluster of hits in the eighth of the opener gave the crippled but hopped up Indians their 13th victory in their last 15 contests.

Frisco, Cards, LA Split In Fight For National Loop Lead

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I found my curve in Honolulu."

Those are not the opening words to a new hula tune, to be crooned to the strum of a ukulele, while palms and wahines sway.

It's the secret of the success of the newest flame-throwing pitcher imported by the Los Angeles Dodgers, 22-year-old left-hander Nick Willhite.

Willhite made his major league debut Sunday and shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. He gave up only five hits, struck out six and walked just one.

His win gave the Dodgers a split, as the Cubs won the opener 8-3. The National league-leading San Francisco Giants also split, losing to Houston 3-0 and winning 4-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals divided a pair with Pittsburgh, losing 4-3 in 12 innings and winning 11-7.

Philadelphia and Milwaukee split, the Phils taking the second game 7-4 in 11 innings and the Braves the opener 5-3.

The Cincinnati Reds scored the only sweep on the full 10-game slate, trouncing the New York Mets 11-5 and 10-3.

In the American League, all five doubleheaders were swept. The league-leading Yankees won 4-0 and 6-3 over Detroit, Chicago beat Kansas City 2-1 and 3-2, Boston beat Baltimore 8-1 and 12-5, Cleveland trimmed Washington 4-2 and 6-4 and Los Angeles bumped Minnesota 5-3 and 5-4 in 11 innings.

The Dodgers' young Willhite suddenly found his curve and his winning ways while working for Spokane in the Pacific Coast League.

Willhite's victory kept the Dodgers a game back of the Giants and a half game behind the Cards, after Bob Buhl beat them handily in the opener for his sixth victory.

The Giants, pitched into first place Saturday by Juan Marichal's no-hitter, held on when Billy Pierce and Jim Duffalo combined to stop a Houston ninth inning rally in the second game.

Don Nottebart, who suffered a sprained right foot in the fifth inning, and Jim Umbricht combined to shut the Giants out in the opener. Catcher Jim Campbell's two-run double was the big blow for the Phils.

Al McBean pitched six scoreless innings of relief for the Pirates and won his own game in the 12th with a homer to run his record to 7-1. The Cards bounced back with seven extra-base hits to take the second game, despite three-run homers by both Jim Pagarioni and Ted Savage for the Pirates.

The Braves fought back from a 3-0 deficit in the opener against the Phils, with five singles for four runs in the seventh inning.

In the second game the Phillies came from behind to tie the game in the ninth and win in the 11th.

Jim Maloney won his 10th victory in the opener and Jim O'Toole his 12th in the second game for the Reds. The pitchers, who won 25 games between them last year, now have a combined 22-5 record, to take up the slack left by Bob Purkey and Joey Jay. Purkey and Jay won 44 games last season, but have only four so far this year.

The Reds collected 24 hits, nine for extra bases, off six New York pitchers. Al Jackson and Roger Craig took the losses.

Arnie Wins Thunderbird With Playoff Victory Over Paul Harney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Arnold Palmer turns his attention to the U.S. Open today, richer, wiser, out of a nagging slump, and once again able to laugh and quip.

"After all these years, I've found my choking price. It's $25,000."

The 33-year-old Latrobe, Pa., strong boy—refreshed and relaxed after a month's layoff—shoved himself back on the throne of golf Sunday by winning the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic in a sudden death playoff with skinny Paul Harney.

Palmer put away his challenger by a stroke with a par 3 on the first extra hole after they had tied over the regulation 72 with 277 totals, picked up his winner's check for $25,000, and was able to say, without a grin:

"It's been a profitable week. I hit only one poor drive in the tournament. I hit only two shots that I was ashamed of. My game has improved a lot."

"That rest was just what I needed, I guess, although the way I approached to the 17th and putted on the 18th, I could have used the practice."

Although he shot a 2-over-par 72 on the last round and let Harney catch him when he hit a too-strong approach and a too-weak chip on the 17th and missed a three-foot putt on the 18th, Palmer dominated the Thunderbird from the start to finish.

Never out of the lead after firing a first-round 67 on the 6,550-yard, par 70 Westchester Country Club course, he showed he can be a front-runner as well as a stretch stormer when he has to.

It was a far different Palmer who flew his own plane to Brookline, Mass., late Sunday night for Thursday's start of the National Open than the one who quit the tour, ailing and disgusted, little more than four weeks ago.

With the $25,000 first prize, which led to Palmer's "choking" quip after his missed three-footer forced the playoff, the king became the first golfer in official PGA records to earn more than $400,000 in a career.

A pro since 1955, Palmer has piled up earnings of $401,323, has won 39 official tournaments plus 10 British Open titles, has won 12 of 13 playoffs in which he has been involved, and now trails the year's leading money-winner Jack Nicklaus, by only little more than $2,000.

Nicklaus, bothered by a sore neck here, pocketed $1,075 after shooting a 284 total and has $58,690 in official earnings. Palmer jumped into second place with $56,545.

Harney, with a final round 69, settled for the $10,000 second prize and defending champion Gene Littler took third money of $5,700 after a final round 67 left him but one stroke short of the Palmer-Harney tie.

Warren Tournament Won By New Yorker

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A mere $275 and a 32nd place finish in Montreal was all 35-year-old southpaw Marty Piraino of Syracuse, N.Y., had to show for two years on the Professional Bowlers Association tour—until he came here.

He rang the cash register for $3,000 Sunday night when he won first prize in the $23,400 Warren Civic Open as his steady hook ball knocked down pins consistently. He wound up with 1,225 points to top 15 other finalists.

In second place was Dick Weber of St. Louis, who earned $1,500 with his 1,132 total. Carmen Salvo of Chicago was third with 961 points, followed by Ray Bluth, St. Louis, 936, and Andy Rogoznica, Chicago.

Piraino won 11 of 16 contests in the round-robin, averaging 214 a game.

Whitfield's Pinch Homer Wraps Up Two For Tribe

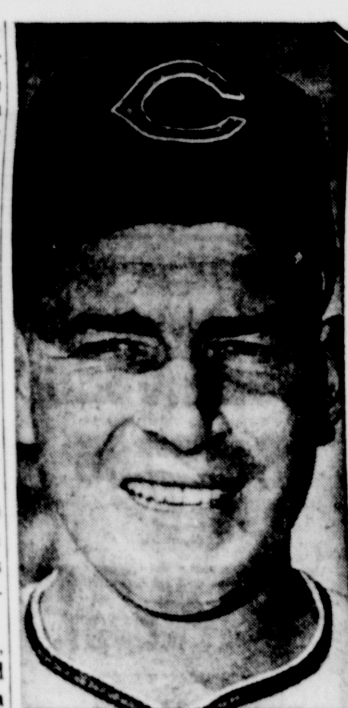

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians still are riding high—in fourth place and just 3½ games behind the leaders—with a combination of steady pitching and clutch hitting.

Fred Whitfield came through Sunday with a three-run homer in a pinch-hitting role in the ninth inning of the second game to propel the Indians to a 6-4 triumph and a doubleheader sweep over the Washington Senators. Cleveland rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to capture the opener 4-2.

The two victories stretched the Tribe's winning streak to four. The surging Indians have won 10 of 11 and 14 of the last 16, a heady pace for a team that was in ninth place and 9½ games behind just two weeks ago.

Asked about pennant prospects, general manager Gabe Paul and manager Birdie Tebbetts took a cautious attitude.

"Any one of a half dozen teams can win this thing," said Paul. "It's one of those ding-dong races and that's the way it's going to be."

FRED WHITFIELD
His Homer Turns Tide.

"I prefer to look ahead, not back," said Tebbetts in discussion.

sing the hot streak. "Just live a day at a time."

Ted Abernathy got credit for the first game victory, his first decision, after saving seven other games in the Tribe's surge. He came on in the eighth inning with the score tied 2-2 and held the Senators to two hits.

The Senators grabbed a 3-0 lead in the nightcap against Dick Donovan, including a homer by Jim King. Willie Kirkland's two-run homer in the third cut the margin to 3-2 and the Indians tied it up in the fifth.

The Indians were behind 4-3 in the ninth inning. Then Tito Francona, pinch hitting for Donovan, rapped a double. Dick Howser pushed a bunt past the pitcher's mound and beat it out. Whitfield batted for Jerry Kindall and slammed the game-winning homer.

The Indians play the Senators again tonight with Jack Kralick (6-5) pitching against Washington's Jim Duckworth (2-4). Then Cleveland has a stretch of 24 games against Baltimore, Boston and New York.

EL Nine Notches 8th Straight Win

The Friendly Bowling - Merchants received some fine pitching from Agnew and some relief help from Callahan to get by the East Palestine Merchants, 4-2, Sunday at East Palestine in a County - City League game.

The victory was the eighth straight for the East Liverpool entry but Negley posted its sixth in a row by topping Lisbon, 13-4.

Manager John Anderson's team committed four errors which put Agnew in hot water on several occasions but he managed to pitch out of trouble. He showed nine strikeouts.

East Liverpool came up with nine hits off Walker and Hughes with a three - run outburst in the second frame proving the big inning.

At the plate, the speedy Bob Gessford, Frasier and Eckles all chipped in with two hits apiece. One of Eckles' hits was a triple.

Braves Trade Low Burdette To St. Louis

Low Burdette and Paul Foytack, a pair of veteran right-handed pitchers, were the key names involved in major league swaps just before the trading deadline passed.

Burdette, who has played all his major league career with the Braves, both in Boston and Milwaukee, went to St. Louis while Foytack, in his 10th year with Detroit, shifted to the Los Angeles Angels.

Both deals were nailed down in sparse trading activity just before the deadline at 2 a.m. local time Sunday.

Burdette, 36 and a 12-year veteran with the Braves, said he had mixed emotions about the deal. Foytack, 32, was delighted.

"The deal didn't come as a shock," Burdette said, "but it's tough to leave after being a Brave for 12 years. I was 100 per cent a Brave and now I'll be 100 per cent a Cardinal."

"I hope I can help St. Louis win a pennant."

Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane, plagued by spotty pitching and injuries, said he would put Burdette to work immediately, probably as a starter against the New York Mets Tuesday.

"I'm delighted with the deal," Foytack said. "I want to pitch and I know I can help the Angels."

Burdette, hero of the 1957 World Series when he won three games from the New York Yankees, was traded to St. Louis for catcher-outfielder Gene Oliver, 28, and minor league pitcher Bob Sadowski, 25, just 15 minutes before the deadline.

Foytack and Detroit reserve infielder Frank Kostro were traded to the Angels for utility man George Thomas and a minor league player to be named later.

25-Year-Old, Veteran Win In Trapshoot

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A Highland County farmer and a Montgomery County kitchenware salesman reign today as co-kings of Ohio's trapshooters.

Veteran Joe Hiestand of Hills-boro and 25-year-old John Stern-berger of Trotwood won the laurels in the five-day 77th state trapshoot which ended Sunday.

Hiestand, a farmer who won the North American clay target title for the third time back in 1938—the year Sternberger was born—broke 383 of 400 handicap, 16-yard and doubles targets to take the 1963 all-around crown. He failed to win an individual event, but was close in all.

Sternberger, a southpaw, won three events and piled up 858 hits in 900 tries to take the overall championship. The two tied at 91 for the doubles championship, and Sternberger won the shootoff by a target.

Will Barlick Change His Mind On Quitting Game?

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Al Barlick, one of baseball's most highly respected umpires, has called himself out. But the question remains—will he change his decision?

There was no immediate response from the veteran arbiter who dropped out of sight after calling National League headquarters in the wee small hours Sunday morning to tell league secretary Fred Fleig: "I am fed up with the whole thing, and am going to quit and go home."

Barlick, a protégé of the late Bill Klem when he broke into the majors in 1940, checked out of his Cincinnati hotel about 3 a.m., shortly after the call to Fleig, apparently in order to drive to his home in Springfield, Ill.

Neither reporters nor National League President Warren Giles were able to reach him there. He did not work the New York Mets-Cincinnati Reds Sunday doubleheader as scheduled.

"All I have to say is that he is a fine umpire, a great umpire, and I hope he will reconsider," Giles said. "I have been unable to contact him and hope he will change his mind."

There was no official comment from league headquarters on the possible cause of his sudden decision, but Barlick and other NL umpires long have been dissatisfied with what they called lack of proper backing and supervision from league headquarters.

Barlick, originally a coal miner who started umpiring sandlot ball at $1 a game to earn money during a miners strike, turned professional in 1936. He was 25 when he came to the National League in 1940.

He missed the 1956 and 1957 seasons because of illness, but since has been in good health. He umpired six World Series and five All Star games.

Beaver Driver Cited
In Pughtown Mishap

A Beaver County motorist was cited in a two-car crash Saturday night on Gas Valley Road in Pughtown, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported today.

Henry Jamery, 34, of Ambridge was charged with driving without an operator's license in the crash of his 1955 sedan and a 1959 station wagon operated by Agnes M. Ferguson, 41, of New Cumberland R. D. 1.

Deputies said Jamery was turning east on Gas Valley Road off State Route 2 and the Ferguson car was halted for a stop sign. The collision was timed at 6:45.

OFF THE RECORD

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, June 17, the 168th day of 1963. There are 197 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1928, Amelia Earhart flew from Newfoundland in a plane piloted by William Stultz and with Louis Gordon as mechanic. The plane landed in Wales 20 hours and 40 minutes later, making her the first woman airplane passenger to cross the Atlantic.
On this date:
In 1775, the battle of Bunker Hill was fought at what is now the city of Boston during the American Revolution.
In 1856, the first Republican National Convention was held in Philadelphia, with John Charles Fremont nominated for president and William L. Dayton for vice president.
In 1890, Hudson Maxim and Robert Schupphaus were awarded a patent for the first smokeless gunpowder and the first to be adopted by the U.S. government. In 1925, a protocol was signed in Geneva prohibiting use of poisonous gases and bacteria in warfare.

In 1946, the first mobile radio-telephone service through regular exchanges was inaugurated.
Ten years ago: Demonstrations by Eastern Berlin workers against working conditions in the Soviet zone of Germany turned into major anti-Communist riots requiring the use of Russian armor to bring them under control.
Five years ago: Hungary's Communist government announced the execution of Imre Nagy, premier at the time of the unsuccessful 1956 rebellion, following a secret trial.
One year ago: Leaders of the right-wing secret army called a new truce in the terrorism that had swept strife-torn Algeria.
The horse and its cousins -- the donkey, the wild ass and the zebra -- have only one toe on each foot, the one corresponding to our middle finger or toe. The side toes are represented only by small split bones.

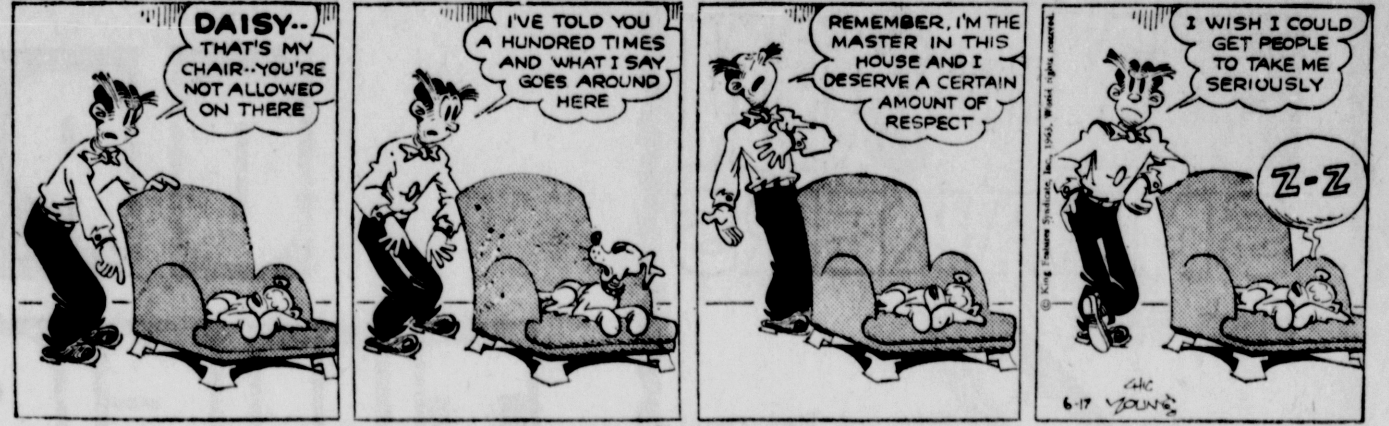

Junior Editors Quiz on NATURE

QUESTION: Why do people love nature?

ANSWER: Our correspondent, Donna Nolan, answers this question in her letter so well that we quote it here. "Nature," says Donna, "is pretty. It goes on and on. It never stops. There are lots of things in nature, deer, rabbits, squirrels and the people who love the outdoors, the birds, animals, trees, wolves." You're right, Donna, nature does go on and on. And streams, lakes, go on and on with their enjoyment, too. These people see beauty in nature and they find a great deal to interest them as well, because outdoor things tell us the story of the earth we live on.
In his picture, our artist has illustrated a number of outdoor hobbies. They are (1) botany, (2) wild animal photography, (3) a rockhound at work, (4) insect study and collecting, (5) bird watching, (6) shell collecting and (7) landscape painting. What's that fellow (8) doing? He's just paddling along, happy to be outdoors on a beautiful summer day.
FOR YOU TO DO: Check over our outdoor nature hobbyists, to see if some of their interests might not suggest something new to you. After all, there's no law against having more than one hobby.
Donna Joyce Nolan of Ellicott City, Md., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win $10 or the weekly grand prize of a set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.
